Florals: Desire and Design

Until February 15, 2021 | Included with Museum admission

Explore an era of European botanical discovery and its cultural connections in Florals: Desire and Design. With world-wide exploration and the economic expansion of the 1700s came a new-found fascination with plants and flowers, resulting in their exchange around the globe through trade. Plants that were previously unknown to Europe were prized as precious gifts. Whether enjoyed in botanical gardens, on foreign luxury goods with floral decoration, or as illustrations in botanical books and magazines, there was a growing desire for all things floral.

The Cloth that Changed the World: India's Painted and Printed Cottons

Opens April 4 | Included with Museum admission

Made with novel cotton, vivid colours and exuberant design, the painted and printed cottons of India changed human history; they revolutionized art, fashion and science wherever they went around the globe.

Featuring pieces from the Museum's world-renowned collection, and several important international loans, this ROM-original exhibition explores how over thousands of years India's artisans have created, perfected and innovated these printed and painted multicoloured cotton fabrics to fashion the body, honour divinities, and beautify palaces and homes.

Canada Blooms

Enercare Centre, Exhibition Place
March 13 to 22, 2020

"Every year, thousands of people flock to Canada Blooms to experience lush garden and beautiful floral designs," says Terry Caddo, Executive Director of Canada Blooms. We thought that it would be fun to let our designers get creative and 'spread their wings' with this year's theme 'Birds of a Feather'."

This year's theme gives garden designers, builders, floral artists, competitors and presenters an opportunity to explore imagery incorporating birds, feathers, bird baths and more or alternatively, designers can choose to interpret the theme figuratively, focusing on similarities between people, plants and insects. Come out to this year's festival and enjoy 2 Events for 1 Admission; your entrance fee also gets you into the National Home Show.
